

WAR-CROWNED BRITISH BOATS AT GALVESTON

Galveston, Tex., Oct. 22.—Two British steamships, the steel prow of which wrote history during the world war, entered the port of Galveston the same day recently.

The Penelope came rammed and sank a German submarine in the straits of Gibraltar early in 1912. The Penelope was the first of a class of British steamships built for the purpose of attacking submarines.

The Penelope was built at Newcastle, England, in 1912. It was the first of a class of British steamships built for the purpose of attacking submarines. Could Not Vote For G. O. P.; Man Goes Over Falls

Nagasaki, N. Y., Oct. 22.—Some of the eyes of a score of sightseers at Prospect Point late yesterday, a man climbed over the railing, waded out into the river and was carried over the American falls. Two spectators stood by while the man drifted to the brink, waving his hands and shouting, "Here's where I leave you, goodby."

In a black derby found near the place where the man climbed the railing, was found a piece of paper on which was written: "This hat belongs to Carl A. Jilla, of Hamburg, N. Y."

The description of the suicide corresponds to that of Jilla, who could not be located in Hamburg last night. The owner of a souvenir stand near the falls told the police that the man approached him and laughingly said:

"Well, I can't vote for Harding, so I may as well go over the falls." The souvenir seller thought the man was joking.

Embroidered by King George. Lloyd's medal for gallantry also was bestowed upon him for his efforts in behalf of his ship.

COTTON DUTY INCREASED. In order to prevent a scarcity of raw material for Mexican spinners, provisional president Adolfo de la Huerta of Mexico has signed a decree increasing the export duty on cotton from 5 to 10 cents per kilo, (one and one-half to two and one-half cents per lb.)

"Jolly Good Fellows" Make Life Interesting For Mates Who "Enrol" In Jail-School

WHEN you go to Juarez for purposes other than business:

1—Leave your valuables on the American side.

2—Take only a small amount of money with you, the smaller the better.

3—Keep off the side streets. If you drink get your booze from "reliable firms."

4—Catch a street car before dark.

5—When arrested see that your rings, stick pins, lodge emblems and valuables you failed to leave on the American side are given to the man in charge at the police station.

These are the five commandments for the "benefit of all concerned." He gave them out because he is growing weary of helping his friends and his friends' friends out of trouble in Juarez.

Most of them this week failed to obey these commandments. John Reese, a railroad man of Tucson, was one of them and James O. Modesto, of Jennings, La., was another.

Reese said he had his watch when he was taken to the police station but that he was minus it when he was released. "When released, after some hours to the 'bull pen' he got all his papers back, but it still wanting his watch. Being a railroad man he needs it."

Modesto, it seems, played the role of an innocent bystander. He was sightseeing and strolled to the jail to see the prisoners. He got too close to the bars and somebody looked his 17-jewel watch.

The man from Louisiana went to the American consulate and told consul E. A. Dow his troubles. Consul Dow notified the police and the prisoners were lined up and searched but the timepiece was not found.

Chief of police Arturo Morales has no undated watch. An American found the watch on the street and took it to the police station. It is a watch of fine manufacture and has an ornate chain. If the owner will identify it the chief will give it to him.

The chief has a passport left with him at the jail that he can not use. It is made out to Thomas K. Stanton of Tucson, Ariz. He said Stanton could have it if he would call for it.

The school the chief has started in Juarez is getting along nicely. Already it has taken on some of the customs of American colleges. One of these customs is that of having a night in the "be fix" quarters reserved for the American who is unable to carry his weight through the border.

TO DISCUSS COTTON BAN AT MEETING NEXT WEEK Whether the cotton quarantine over El Paso county is to be lifted may hinge on a hearing to be held in the council chamber of the city hall by the federal border board Tuesday morning at 10 o'clock.

The meeting is to be an open one and those who have been directing efforts to secure a lifting of the quarantine expect many business men and farmers to be present. Unless Governor C. R. Smith returns Tuesday, Maj. Richard P. Burgess probably will act as chairman of a committee named several days ago to meet the horticultural board and also as spokesman.

DETECTIVES WILL WORK ON BOTH SIDES OF LINE Chief of police J. R. Montgomery has completed arrangements with chief of police Mariano Morales, of Juarez, whereby detectives from one city may investigate pawnshops and second hand stores in the other.

The arrangement was made when it was found that many stolen articles from El Paso failed to appear in local pawnshops or stores, and after some stolen property was found in Juarez. This led to the belief that the thieves were disposing of it in Juarez.

HUNG JURY DISCHARGED. Trial jury trying supply case, J. G. Kinsinger charged with theft of $100,000 from Fort Bliss, was unable to reach a verdict when the case was referred to them Friday, and was discharged at their own request by Judge Daryl West in federal court yesterday morning.

LICENSED TO WEL. David Howard and Nathan Hernandez, Hugh P. Phillips and Richard McChesney.

CHINESE CHARGED WITH EMBEZZLING $10,000. Deputy sheriff Juan Parra left Friday for Albuquerque for Lee Ling, a Chinaman, charged in justice E. D. Lawrence court with embezzlement over $10,000.

The complaint was filed late Friday by Charlie Roon, who said he was a partner of Ling and that Thursday night Ling robbed the firm's safe and took approximately $10,000. A large part of the money was deposited with the firm by other Chinese, for safe keeping.

Authorities say Ling took an automobile to Las Cruces, and then boarded a train for Albuquerque. When arrested the New Mexico town he had only $200. The officers believe he hid the money between Las Cruces and El Paso.

Tenant Kills Pastor, Owner Of Apartments

Chicago, Ill., Oct. 21.—Rev. Frederick G. Huff, pastor of the Memorial Methodist church and owner of an apartment building was shot and killed today by Fred W. Saxiro, one of his tenants.

Saxiro, manager of a coal company, told police he mistook the minister for a burglar. He was arrested, however, while police investigated reports of trouble between the tenants and the preacher.

Rev. Mr. Huff was summoned before the council committee investigating rent protesting several weeks ago on complaint of his tenants. Recently tenants posted signs in their windows reading: "Unfair Landlord."

Two Americans were standing on the corner yesterday when a third American came up and said: "Friends, I've just been let out of jail. I haven't the courage, yet, to ask the council to fix my passport; it's expired, so I can't get across to El Paso. I want a dime to buy a drink of rum and then I'll leave."

"I could tell you I was hungry, but I'm not; I just want a little drink before I face the council."

A fourth American had been listening to the man and stopped up and gave him a dime and hurried to catch a car.

"See, there's a big hearted drunk," said the bouncer in the remaining American. "I had stayed a minute longer I'd have talked that guy out of a dollar."

PROFITS TAX THEORY RIGHT SAYS BANKER

New York, Oct. 22.—The excess profits tax is just in theory but unworkable in practice, Otto E. Kahn, banker, declared at a meeting of the second annual tax conference last night. He expressed the opinion that it had not always added to costs, "although every one tries to pass it on."

He said he was not wholly in accord with the proposition to substitute for it taxes on coffee, tea, musical instruments, gasoline, cigars, tobacco and candy.
